

Are You a 21st Century Women's Conference a First for Staten Island Organization

Staten Island, NY-- The SBA's Business Outreach Center/ Women's Business Center satellite office, a program of the West Brighton Local Development Corporation, held its first conference for Staten Island's women's business community this month. Entitled "Are You A 21st Century Business Woman?" the luncheon featured a keynote address by Anne Sutherland Fuchs, chair-person for the New York City Commission on Women's Issues.

The program, attended by over 100 women included breakout sessions covering topics of special interest to businesswomen including: How to Hire and Keep The Best Employees; Bank and Alternative Financing; Techno-logy--- What do I do with all this Stuff?; and Pitching Your Business in Two Minutes or Less.

Participants at the "Are You a 21st Century Women?" Conference
(pictured l to r) Frank Dito, SBA; Linda Baran, Staten Island Chamber of Commerce; JoAnn Regan, Brooklyn Outreach Center; New York Regional Administrator Bill Manger; Susan Meeker, West Brighton Local Development Corporation; Herbert Austin, SBA; Minerva Dejesus, SBA