Windsor Resident Selected as U.S. Small Business Administration 2006 SBA Young Entrepreneur of the Year

WINDSOR, Conn. - Stanley Gryskiewicz, owner of PC Development Group LLC, a computer retail store located in the center of Windsor, CT was selected SBA Young Entrepreneur of the Year for 2006 by the U.S. Small Business Administration. Individuals selected for this award category are under the age of thirty, serve as majority owner, and operate or bear principal responsibility for operating a small business. Other criteria for winning this prestigious award are the development of innovative or creative business methods and demonstrated entrepreneurial potential necessary for long-term business success and economic growth.

When Stan started PC Development Group in 2002, his desire was to provide computer users with an alternative to the long waits, over-charges, and lack of quality customer service currently provided by major retail computer chains. PC Development Group upgrades, repairs and custom builds computer systems for home and business customers on and off site and is successfully providing its customers with timely, high quality and reasonably priced service for their computing and technology needs.

Offering a variety of computer and technology related products and services PC Development Group is a place where customers can discuss problems or situations they are encountering and learn how to utilize their computers more effectively. By keeping his business focused on the needs of his customers, Stan and his staff of five have found a niche market that values their efforts. He has created a culture at PC Development where he and his staff take the time and effort to listen to the questions and concerns of their customers, while utilizing their expertise to assist in the specific and often very individual requirements of each client. What sets PC Development Group apart from their peers are Stan and his team's customer-first attitude. This approach is also one of the many reasons why PC Development continues to grow, and become well established in not only Windsor but also the Greater Hartford area.

An active member in the Windsor community where he and his wife reside, Stan is a member of the Windsor Chamber of Commerce and the Windsor Rotary Club, where he has served as Secretary and Sergeant at Arms. Stan has been president of the Windsor Jaycees and Vice President of First Town Downtown, a local organization dedicated to the revitalization of downtown Windsor.

These are but a few of the many qualities displayed by Stanley Gryskiewicz and PC Development Group LLC, which has earned them the distinction of SBA Young Entrepreneur of the Year 2006.
