SBA Disaster Loans Available in Kentucky Following Secretary of Agriculture Disaster Declaration

ATLANTA - The U.S. Small Business Administration announces today that federal economic injury loans are available to small businesses, small agricultural cooperatives, and most private, non-profit organizations of all sizes located in the Commonwealth of Kentucky as a result of severe storms, tornadoes, torrential rainfall and flooding that occurred on May 30, 2008 and continuing.

Small businesses, small agricultural cooperatives, and most private, non-profit organizations in the following counties are eligible to apply: Boone, Carroll, Daviess, Henderson, Jefferson, Oldham, Trimble and Union in the Commonwealth of Kentucky.

“These counties are eligible because they are contiguous to one or more primary counties in the State of Indiana. The Small Business Administration recognizes that disasters do not usually stop at the county or state lines. For that reason, counties adjacent to primary counties named in the declaration are included,” according to Frank Skaggs, Director of SBA Field Operations Center East.

“When the Secretary of Agriculture issues a disaster declaration to help farmers recover from damages and losses to crops, the Small Business Administration issues a declaration to assist small businesses, small agricultural cooperatives, and most private, non-profit organizations affected by the same disaster,” said Frank Skaggs, Director of SBA Field Operations Center East.

Under this declaration, SBA’s Economic Injury Disaster Loan program is available to farm-related and nonfarm-related small business concerns, small agricultural cooperatives, and most private non-profit organizations of all sizes that suffered financial losses as a direct result of this disaster. Farmers and ranchers are not eligible to apply to SBA.

Eligible small businesses, small agricultural cooperatives, and private, non-profit organizations may qualify for loans up to $2 million. These loans are available at a 4 percent interest rate with loan terms up to 30 years. SBA determines eligibility for the program based on the size of the entity, type of activity and its financial resources. Loan amounts and terms are set by SBA and are based upon each applicant’s financial condition. Under this disaster declaration, SBA cannot provide loans to agricultural producers.
